

Contributor
 [Blurred text]

◀ For “Whiter! Straighter! Brighter!,” makeup artist Lazarus put the finishing touches on two women whose dental makeovers had them smiling. “I used neutral lipcolors with a lot of shine to draw attention to their mouths but not away from their teeth,” he says. (Turn to page 118 for his tip on how to make teeth look whiter.) Lazarus codesigned the Philippe Prive cosmetics line, which launched at Saks Fifth Avenue and Takashimaya, before getting his editorial break doing Eve’s makeup for the cover of Paper. This is Lazarus’s first time working with O. O

[Blurred text]

[Blurred text]

[Blurred text]

O
 THE OPRAH
 MAGAZINE

8 ENTIRELY NEW
RULES OF LOVE
 The relationship game is really changing!

“HOW COULD I NOT HAVE KNOWN?”
 Dina McGreevey on the lies that destroyed a governor and a marriage

5 DAYS WITH OPRAH & GAYLE
 How 60 readers revamped their lives...
 How you can, too

FIRST-EVER PANTY INTERVENTION!
 Smooth, slim, lift your bottom line

4 THE LOVE TYPES
 Which are you? Which is he? Don't say another word to him until you take our quiz

MAYBE YOU NEED TO EAT MORE!
 Energy boosts for the witing woman

JUNE 2007 $4.50
 OPRAH.COM

ANGIER: DAVID BURNETT/CONTACT PRESS IMAGES; NILSSON: COURTESY OF MARCUS NILSSON; LAZARUS: JAMES WEBER. I